BETTER LIGHTING FOR MAIN STREET

Business Men Want Illumination for Thoroughfares Leading From Stations.

WOULD ADVERTISE CITY

Named to Inaugurate Movement.

new plans comprise the ornamental illumination of Main Street from Fifth to Eighteenth, of Four-teenth from the Southern depot to Main, of Ninth from Main to Broad, of Eighth from Main to Broad and or Seventh from the Byrd Street Station to Broad.

Eighth from Main to Broad and of seventh from the Byrd Street Station to Broad.

A preliminary meeting of the business men interested was held Friday svening. Phil G. Kelly presided, and Charles A. Rose acted as secretary. There was a full discussion of the situation. The concensus of opinion was that lighting Broad Street would be of little value as an advertisement to Richmond. It was believed that the best impression would be made if the best impression would be street from the moment of his arrival at the statutors, and taking him to Broad if he desired to go there.

Besides, it is argued, bright lights on Main Street would be an aid to the protection by the officers of the enormous quantities of money stored in the walls of the financial institutions to cally, he says, and besides, the carriers in the level with the prosposition of the moment of the business struction of the men interested in the movement last night, if it is a matter of helping the merchants only," said one of the men interested in the movement last night, if it is a matter of helping the merchants only," said one of the men interested in the movement last night, if it is a matter of helping the merchants only," said one of the men interested in the movement last night, as well as the country people. As a country merchant, I know whereof it is the proceeds, "that the heretofore accommodating Chesapeake and Ohio Railing Chesapeake and Ohio Railing Chesapeake and of he public and the merchants of Richmond. It would intered to the he cated there.

"If it is a matter of helping the merchants only," said one of the men interested in the movement last night, et id one see why those of the principal business street should not have equal advantages,"

As a result of the meeting a committee was appointed, composed of two business men on each block proposed to be lighted, to secure the active coperation of every person who would be interested in the new plan. Signatures will be secured to a petition asking for lights for the district outlined, and when the papers are complied they will be presented to the representatives of the interested parties in the City Council.

sentatives of the interested parties in the City Council.

Questions of cost, it is stated, were not gone into to any great extent or with particularity. There was ittle expression with regard to the downtown streets "getting their share," but there was a goo. deal said as to the advantages to the city being greater from well-lighted streets from the railway stations than on proad Street. The plan recently adopted for the latter thoroughfare of six ornamental lights to the block was looked upon favorably.

TEMPERANCE RALLY

Glorious Fourth to He Celebrated by Piente at Chester.

Arrangements are being made for a temperance rally and basket piente to be held on July 4 at Chester. There will be an address by Mrs. Amy C. Weech, representing the Virginia Woman's Christian Temperance Union, on the subject, "The Temperance Union, on the subject, "The Temperance Wave," and by Rev. Charles E. Stuart, of the Anti-Saloon League of Virginia, on the subject, "The Union of the Temperance Forces,"

Meeting Held and Committee Postmaster Points Out That C. & O. Plans Cannot Be Successful

Believing that the proposed extensive lighting of Broad Street, while anquestionably helping the merchants along that thoroughfare, would accomplish little in the way of advertising the city, the business men of Main Street have begun a moverzent looking to similar lighting of all the street have begun a moverzent looking to similar lighting of all the street have stations. The Broad Street lights, it is understood, will not be antagothated.

Luck of Parental Authority.

"What do parents know about their children now? In the old times they knew where their children were and what they were doing, and when they shadows gathered, the children came home to the fold. Parents now do not keep up with their children in this way. If a son gets in at 11 at night he will probably beat his mother back home.

"Parents are too lax about teaching their children the proper observance of the Sabbath. Many young men are rulned by joining boat clubs and running off from home on Saturday nights to spend all Sunday off somewhere drinking and having a good time. In this way such young men become immoral, and are transformed into Sabbath desecrators by the negligence of parents who fall to perform duttes which the law cannot perform in their stead. Church and State cannot do the work which God has given the mother and father to do."

After pointing out the harm that may be done by evil companionship and the corrupting power of evil personal influences, Dr. McDaniel said that another cause of the immoral conditions here is a lax regard of the marriage bond.

"Now people rush madly into matrimony," he stated, "without a proper gard of marital yows characterizes a good many people in this city. The commercialization of women is a good many people in this city. The commercialization of women is a good many people in this city. Sixteen-Year-Old Boy Loses Life

While Bathing on Sunday.

Adding to the list of Sunday drowning, Lonnie Lyon, sixteen years old, lost his life near Swift Creek Mills, in Chesterfield county, yesterday afternoon. The boy was an orphan, and had been adopted by his uncle, H. Lyon, of Chester.

The youth was bathing with two other boys when the fatality occurred. He got into water beyond his depth and was unable to reach a shallower level. One of his companions made desperate efforts to rescue him, but without avail.

The body was recovered and taken to Roseboro, N. C., for burial by the side of his opparents,

The plans for the permanent new building are almost in shape for final approval, and it is to be of so imposing and complete a character that time will be taken to work out every detail. This fact necessitated some sort of adequate temporary headquarters, and

MANY CHANGES MUSIC PUPILS IN NEW COUNCIL

All Standing Committees to Be Honors Awarded to Pupils of Reorganized in Sep-

As the result of the recent election four new Aldermen are to be seated and eight new members it is evident that the new Council will members of the Committee on Finance ineligible for other standing commit-incligible for other standing committees will make the contrast in the new Council still more marked.

Some of the Changes.

Two members of the present Council, John F. Don Leavy, of Clay, and John B. Billey, of Monroe, are advanced to the Board of Aldermen. John R.

Grimes, formerly a member of the Common Council from Marshall Ward, and Mary Gunst, formerly an Alder-Common Council from Marshall Ward, and Marx Gunst, formerly an Alderman from Monroe Ward, now elected to the Board from Lee Ward, make up the new members of the upper branch. All have had experience in city business and are familiar with the machinery of government.

The new members of the Common Council are Clarence A. Seaton, of Clay Ward; W. D. Butler, of Lee; A. L. Vonderlehr, of Henry; George McDuffie Blake, of Monroe; George M. Cease, of deriehr, of Henry; George McDuffle Blake, of Monroe; George M. Cease, of Monroe; Barney Bowman, of Madison; George H. Lumsden, of Marshall, and W. E. Sullivan, of Marshall, Some of these have had experience in public affairs, and others have yet to serve their first term in a deliberative body of the size and importance of the City Council. Men of experience who retire these have had experience in public affairs, and others have yet to serve their first term in a deliberative body of the size and importance of the City Council. Men of experience who retire from the Council at the end of this term are Alderman S. H. Cottrell, of Clay Ward; T. H. Ellett, of Lee; W. H. Zimmermann, of Monroe, and J. L. Spence, of Marshall, and Councilmen E. A. Barber, Jr., of Madison; John A. Cutchins, of Lee; F. H. Garber, of Marshall; James W. Gentry, of Marshall; Kirkwood Mitchell, of Henry, and J. Randolph Tucker, of Monroe.

In addition to these changes in the older part of the city committee assignments have not yet been provided for the three Aldermanic members from Washington Ward, and only temporary provision has been made for the Councilmen from South Richmond.

As to Finance Committee.

The provision as to the Finance Committee will result in some changes if adhered to by the incoming Council. Alderman W. H. Adams, chairman of the Street Committee, is an active member of the Committee on Finance, and it may be that he will prefer to remain on that body rather than to retain the chairmanship of Streets. His retirement from Streets would probably result in the six regarded as a valuable member of both committees. His retirement from Streets would probably result in the selection of Subchairman Gilbert K.

is regarded as a valuable member of both committees. His retirement from Streets would probably result in the selection of Subchairman-Gilbert K. Pollock, now the oldest member in point of service, to the chairmanship of the Street Committee.

Chairman Morgan R. Mills, of the Committee on Water, is also an active member of the Committee on Finance. His technical knowledge has made him peculiarly valuable to the Water Department, which has made material progress ander his leadership, and it may be that he will elect to remain at that post and surrender his place on the Finance Committee. It is understood that Chairman H. R. Pollard, Jr., of the Committee on Finance, will be re-elected to the chairmanship, and he will give up his position on the Committee on Electricity, on which he has been active in arranging details of the management of the new municipal plant.

President R. J., Peters, of the Com-plant.

President R. L. Peters, of the Common Council, and President Robert Whittet, of the Board, are assured of re-election, and may without embarrassment begin to block out their lists of committee assignments during the dull summer months, when councilmanic action is expected to be almost at a standstill. at a standstill.
